WHS is seeking emergency short-term foster families

As the only open access shelter in Washington, DC, WHS takes in an average of 30 animals every day. The WHS team works around the clock to provide comfort to all of the animals in our care, but our space and resources are limited.

A construction improvement project is currently taking place in the main holding kennel at our New York Avenue shelter that has impacted the living space of some of our dogs. WHS continues to experience a steady stream of dog intake daily, so this loss of 10 kennels impacts us tremendously.

WHS is seeking the support of its community to help DC animals; we are seeking short-term emergency foster homes for some of our dogs. Foster volunteers are vital members of the WHS community, and they fulfill a critical component of our life-saving work. Each time an animal is taken out of the shelter and placed into a foster home, it provides space for another animal who needs our care and attention.

We hope you will consider joining our foster family starting with this most urgent opportunity. More information and an application can be found on our website.
